SUNY Ulster Offering Three Presentations at 2010 CIT Conference

Hope Windle has announced that SUNY Ulster will be represented at the 2010 Conference on Instructional Technologies (CIT), hosted by SUNY Plattsburgh from May 25-28, 2010. This is a wonderful way to show off all the work that we have been doing at SUNY Ulster to create interesting educational environments for our students. There will be a $100 scholarship for the lead presenter of each presentation.

Congratulations go to Lisa Schulte, Robin Stevens, Sherry Chisamore, Richard Cattabiani, Sean Nixon and Hope Windle!

The Presentations:

~ 2nd Life Nursing Hospital

Title: It Takes a Village to Make a Second Life Hospital for Nursing Student Training

Presenters:
- Lisa Schulte, Associate Professor of Nursing, SUNY Ulster
- Robin Stevens, Associate Professor of Nursing, SUNY Ulster
- Sherry Chisamore, Distance Learning Director, SUNY Ulster
- Hope Windle, Instructional Designer, SUNY Ulster
- Jim Greenberg, SUNY Oneonta, Teaching & Learning Center Director
- Dan Plows, SUNY Oneonta, student

~ Online International Collaboration

Title: Low Tech/Hi Tech/Middle Ground, A Case Study of Online Collaborating Internationally

Presenters:
- Richard Cattabiani, Director of International Programs, SUNY Ulster
- Alesia Krupenikava, European Humanities University
- Victoria Minina, European Humanities University
- Rebecca Smolar, SUNY Levin Institute, Globalization 101
- Hope Windle, Instructional Designer, SUNY Ulster

~ Teaching Online

Title: “When you teach your presence, technology is your friend” 20th Century Design, fully online

Presenters:
- Sean Nixon, Coordinator, Graphic Design Program, SUNY Ulster
- Hope Windle, Instructional Designer

For more about CIT 2010:

CIT’s home page:
- http://www.cit.suny.edu/